Press Release – for Immediate Release 03/05/2013

S A Partners are delighted to announce their strategic partnership with CIMCIL in Belgium. CIMCIL will support S A Partners growth in Europe by working closely together to market a series of educational lean programmes aimed at Executives in Belgium and Holland.

The focus of the programme is on helping business leaders to get more from their investments in lean, to build a self-sustaining lean system as a driver of profitable growth and an enabler of strategy. The programme will feature research and case histories delivered by Professor Peter Hines and other key players in the S A Partners lean community

CIMCIL is an independent training center, focused on Supply Chain Management and Operations Excellence, including Lean Management. CIMCIL have built a great reputation offering learning programs, based on workshops, in-depth training and educational business games.

The partnership offers it's customers a balance between learning and application, with local language and culture at the forefront.

About S A Partners LLP

S A Partners is the longest established lean thinking consultancy in the UK – founded in 1993 by Professor Peter Hines to build on his academic research into the Toyota Production System. Professor Hines' research was conducted in affiliation with Cardiff University, Wales, UK, founded in 1883 by Royal Charter. With over 18 years of consulting with clients we have built up a deep understanding of lean thinking and have a rich vein of learning resources that support our work.

As S A Partners grows worldwide, the firm continues to serve major industry and public sectors. The firm's consultants work relentlessly and passionately as a global team – partnering with senior executives to create and execute innovative Lean strategies that deliver top-line growth, maximum earnings, and peak valuation.
